

Internship at Hotel Pro Forma:

We are looking for new talent to develop productions and exhibitions

The international artistic production company Hotel Pro Forma is looking for new interns for the fall 2015 and spring 2016. Your background, knowledge and knowhow is vital for the development of concepts for our future productions and for our organisation. We consider our interns to be independent co-workers responsible for both their individual and collective work. You will be a part of Atelier Hotel Pro Forma, which is Hotel Pro Forma's interdisciplinary labororium.

We are looking for students and candidates from:

architecture, visual arts and media, video design, light design, sound design, dramaturgy and arts management. You are used to work in an open and creative environment.

You must be prepared for changing working hours, have a personal drive, be able to receive constructive critique and have solid knowledge of art and culture.

You can expect:

- An international and artistic environment
- Insight into Hotel Pro Forma's artistic, production and organisational processes
- To take part in the development of upcoming productions
- To develop and show exhibitions and performances
- An expanded network in the artistic field

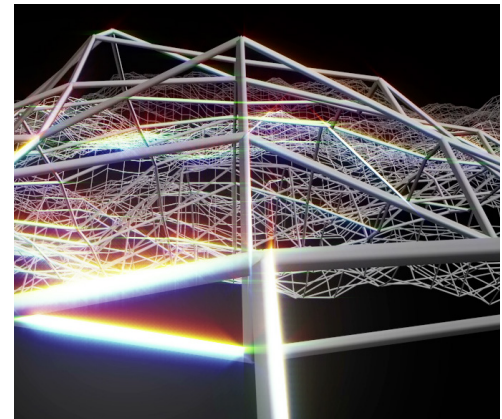

Application deadline: 31 May 2015.

The internship is unpaid and full time, 37 hours a week.

Working language is English.
